

Sintija Upeniece

Project -(Let the dialects) stay alive and never die

(Let the dialects) stay alive and never die is a 2-week multinational project which is based on national dialects maintenance.

Who-pensioners (age 60-80) from different living places who know that dialect and young people (age 18-27) who would like to learn it.

Where-Latvija, region of Latgale

What-to transfer knowledge to young people and to show your own dialect development.

1. Experience. To show your own experience in dialect maintenance-books, information about hobby groups, national costumes. Also to tell stories about dialect maintenance in your region.
2. Contest. To make contest for the best theatre performance using just your dialect. Theatre performances will be based on the gestures and action.
3. Communication. To let the young people acquaint pensioners and listen to their stories. Common games for everyone with specific national costumes.

Why? Sharing an experience and showing your own place differences with your performance for other people. Development of regional dialect' especially between young people. Fashion display of specific national costumes for everyone.

When? 2 weeks.

How? With discussions, sharing of personal experience, contest and show of national costumes.