Description of the project	Alter Ego - Alter Ego overcomes the language barrier across three territories with varied identities by creating a common parlance : the body and the image of the body in movement as a meeting interface. With a mobile device - Videomaton, a white booth equipped with a camera where each and everyone can record a one minute snapshot dance performance - the company travels to capture the moving portraits, basis of a first meeting between artists, publics and partners. The danced portraits, stage of reflection on the theme of otherness, are the raw material of a creative and collective work. Zephyr Company involves the participants physically by welcoming them to Rennes in order to share a common time for dance and video exploration. Captures from the Videomaton, meetings and workshops will be displayed online and visible by all on a specifically created digital platform, proposing a place of exchange between the participants and favouring the cooperation with the partners.
